

Import content of US exports, by product

Note: FVA intensity measure is often referred to as import content of exports and considered as a measure of backward linkages in analyses of global value chains. Sources: OECD TIVA database, Apollo Chief Economist